Liberty HealthShare Launches Ambassador Program

- New 'Share the Power' program rewards member recruitment
- Program builds on existing 'Refer-a-Friend' efforts

CANTON, Ohio, April 10, 2024 – Building on its successful “Refer-a-Friend” program, today Liberty HealthShare® launched “Share the Power,” a new Ambassador program, bringing more value to those passionate about promoting the ministry and its mission across the U.S.

“After we brought back ‘Refer-a-Friend’ in 2022, many asked if we could create a program for those who wanted to promote Liberty HealthShare within their wider personal and professional networks,” said Dorsey Morrow, Liberty HealthShare chief executive officer.

“Our new ‘Share the Power’ Ambassador program gives us the opportunity to reward these influencers who go beyond what we can do with ‘Refer-a-Friend,’” added Morrow. “Their member recruitment efforts can earn them attractive monthly residual income.”

Participation in the “Share the Power” Ambassador program is open to both current Liberty HealthShare members as well as those who support the ministry’s mission but are not active sharing members.

Those interested in joining Liberty HealthShare’s “Share the Power” Ambassador program can visit libertyhealthshare.org/ambassador to learn more and submit an application. Accepted Ambassadors will have access to on-line training, marketing materials, and other resources to support their efforts. Potential Ambassadors can contact ambassador@libertyhealthshare.org with questions.
